

2022 Denver Municipal Ballot Positions

YES on "No Eviction Without Representation" Having legal counsel in eviction proceedings is a critical determinant in whether a person or family stays housed or gets evicted. Also, people who experience an eviction have a harder time finding their next hopportunity—impacting their work, education and family stability. This measure proposes a $75/year fe unit on Denver landlords to fund free legal services for people facing eviction, and help Denver's most vulnerable residents stay housed. If passed by the voters, we also recommend that proponents work with city to consider exemptions for owners of income assisted housing. More info: https://newrdenver.com YES on 21 Yes on "Strong Libraries, Strong Denver" Today, the Denver Library is funded almost entirely through Denver's general fund, competing for funding against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure propose dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously loo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boos housed or gets evicted. Also, people who experience an eviction have a harder time finding their next he opportunity—impacting their work, education and family stability. This measure proposes a $75/year fer unit on Denver landlords to fund free legal services for people facing eviction, and help Denver's most vulnerable residents stay housed. If passed by the voters, we also recommend that proponents work with city to consider exemptions for owners of income assisted housing. More info: https://newrdenver.com YES on 2I Yes on "Strong Libraries, Strong Denver" Today, the Denver Library is funded almost entirely through Denver's general fund, competing for funding against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure propose dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressing affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.cc Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure opportunity—impacting their work, education and family stability. This measure proposes a $75/year fer unit on Denver landlords to fund free legal services for people facing eviction, and help Denver's most vulnerable residents stay housed. If passed by the voters, we also recommend that proponents work wit city to consider exemptions for owners of income assisted housing. More info: https://newrdenver.com YES on 2I Yes on "Strong Libraries, Strong Denver" Today, the Denver Library is funded almost entirely through Denver's general fund, competing for funding against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure propose dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure unit on Denver landlords to fund free legal services for people facing eviction, and help Denver's most vulnerable residents stay housed. If passed by the voters, we also recommend that proponents work wi city to consider exemptions for owners of income assisted housing. More info: https://newrdenver.com YES on 21 Yes on "Strong Libraries, Strong Denver" Today, the Denver Library is funded almost entirely through Denver's general fund, competing for fundin against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure propose dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, of adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 46 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairin vulnerable residents stay housed. If passed by the voters, we also recommend that proponents work wicity to consider exemptions for owners of income assisted housing. More info: https://newrdenver.com YES on 21 Yes on "Strong Libraries, Strong Denver" Today, the Denver Library is funded almost entirely through Denver's general fund, competing for fundin against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure propose dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co/ Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper YES on 21 Yes on "Strong Libraries, Strong Denver" Today, the Denver Library is funded almost entirely through Denver's general fund, competing for funding against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure proposed dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously loo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co/ Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private propers.
Today, the Denver Library is funded almost entirely through Denver's general fund, competing for funding against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure propose dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.cg Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper against all other services, many which have their own dedicated revenue sources. This measure proposed dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously long This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does now weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressing affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co/ Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper. dedicated property tax to supplement DPL's annual budget, and provide a stable, predictable resource for library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, or adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lood This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does now weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressing affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co/ Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private property in the provide access schools. library operations and deferred maintenance. Libraries are critical centers for Denver's children, youth, of adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.cg Undecided on 307 Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper adults, communities of color and new Americans, and library services help close opportunity gaps across communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Prop 123 Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously look This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does now weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressing affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co/ Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper. communities. DPL facilities are also anchors in our neighborhoods, and one of the only places where all are welcome for free. More info: https://stronglibrarystrongdenver.org/ YES on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper YES on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper
Yes on Proposition 123 (Statewide) "Make Colorado Affordable" In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to addressi affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper.
In Colorado, incomes have stagnated while housing costs have shot upward, and we've built 40 fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously look This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does not weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to address affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper. fewer homes from 2010 to 2020 than we did from 2000 to 2010, leaving supply dangerously lo This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to address affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper
This measure would create a new permanent housing fund dedicating 1/10 of 1% of the state's taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does no weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to address affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided On 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper. taxable income (so not a tax increase) to support new housing. All In Denver typically does not weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to address affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided On 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper. weigh in on statewide ballot measures, but Proposition 123 will provide a big boost to address affordable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided On 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper. differedable housing challenges in Denver and throughout the state. Info: https://yeson123co.co Undecided On 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper. undecided on 307 Denver Deserves Sidewalks Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper.
Undecided on 307 Safe sidewalks are not just nice to have—they are fundamental public infrastructure that provide access schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper schools, work, services and amenities. All In Denver agrees that completing, repairing and maintaining a citywide, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, block-by-block sidewalk network is vital for quality of life. Cur Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper Denver's government does not pay for public sidewalks. That responsibility falls to every private proper owner, and the City's plan to complete and upgrade this essential network is basically non-existent.
This ballot measure proposes a modest sidewalk fee charged to property owners, and enables the const of a complete citywide sidewalk network within 9 years and then ongoing funding for sidewalk repairs.
Denver's most vulnerable neighborhoods will see a 20% discount on the fee, and there is an option for homeowners to defer the levy. All In Denver recommends that, should this measure be approved by vot that proponents work with the city to design a more equitable fee structure that improves on the propo rate that would have different impacts based on household incomes and land use types and lot sizes.
More info: https://denverdeservessidewalks.wordpress.com/
YES on 306 Waste No More Ballot measure 306 will require all businesses — including apartment buildings, condos, restaurants, hos hotels, sporting arenas and permitted events—to provide compost and recycling pickup services alongsic hotels, sporting arenas and permitted events—to provide compost and recycling pickup services alongsic trash services, among other features. The goal is to boost recycling rates and decrease the amount of wour city sends to the landfill. More info: https://www.wastenomoredenver.org/